The American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular.

[ESTABLISHED 1852.]

PUBLICATION OFFICE, 298 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

VOL. LXX., No. 2. NEW YORK, July 14, 1906. WHOLE No. 1798

NEVER were the life and spirit of Old California more graphically portrayed than in Mrs. Ryan's new romance, "FOR THE SOUL OF RAFAEL." The story is "as full of prismatic light and color as one of the jewels that figure so dramatically in the drama's conclusion."

The conditions that enter into the making of a beautiful book have never been quite so harmoniously brought together as in this regular $1.50 novel.

"FOR THE SOUL OF RAFAEL" is having a lively sale. It will continue to be in brisk demand. It deserves to be vigorously featured by every bookseller.

Write for display matter. With books, posters, etc., you can get stunning show-window effects.

has contracted with the publishers for the dramatic rights of THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES. The dramatization is being made by Mr. George Middleton, author of The Cavalier and of plays written for Miss Margaret Anglin and Miss Amelia Bingham. A sumptuous production by a splendid cast will be made early in the fall. This is new evidence of the charm and appeal of Meredith Nicholson's novel, which continues to be the best-selling book in the country.

BE SURE TO GET The Sands of Pleasure

By FILSON YOUNG (GUY THORNE)

Author of "When It was Dark," "A Lost Cause," etc.

(Ready July 14th)

"Mr. Filson Young's 'The Sands of Pleasure' is a book of notable distinction, standing as a work of art high amongst the year's publications. The architect-hero, Richard Gray, who builds a magnificent lighthouse on the Cornish coast, completing what his father had begun, has lived until thirty in an atmosphere of self-concentration. Then he visits Paris with a friend, who guides him to Montmartre and to Fontainebleau, where he drinks for a brief while of the wine of specious delight, that leaves an acrid aftertaste of lees. The author has proved himself master of his subject. The descriptions of the lighthouse building are intensely interesting, and the atmosphere of the surroundings is in perfect accord. It is not a light book; there is no badinage, no cheapness of thought or deed. It sets one striving, unavailingly it is true, to find the clue to a certain labyrinth. In the pictures of gay Parisian life—the Bohemia of to-day (which in fundamental matters has changed little since Murger wrote)—no modern English author has been so successful. One is reminded now and then of Daudet at his best, although the vehicle used by Mr. Filson Young is of his own fashioning."—The Sheffield Independent.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THE TRADE

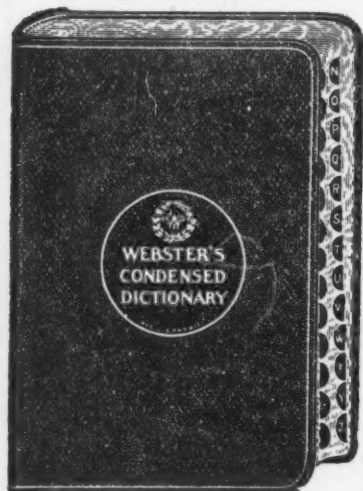

We have just published under arrangement with G. & C. Merriam Co. a line of genuine WEBSTER DICTIONARIES which are, pursuant to a large demand, to be sold at popular prices. Hereafter dealers will have

Webster's Condensed Dictionary

1906 EDITION

Authorized and Copyrighted by

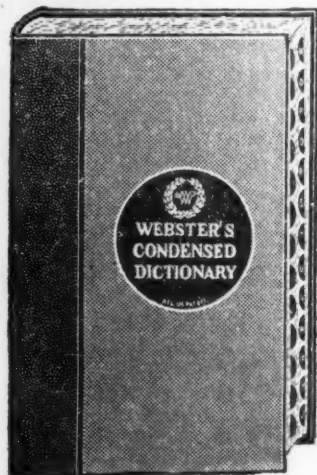

G. & C. MERRIAM CO.

A dictionary of the English language, with copious etymologies, accurate definitions, pronunciations, spelling, and appendixes of general reference, derived from the Unabridged Dictionary of Noah Webster, D.D., LL.D., edited under the supervision of Noah Porter, D.D., LL.D., President of Yale College. Webster's Condensed Dictionary contains 46,297 defined words, (25 to 40 per cent more than any other dictionary of similar scope outside of the genuine Webster series,) 1500 text illustrations, with color maps and charts as follows: a general Map of the United States; a general Map of the World; Flags of All Nations; Flags and Pennants of the International Code; the Signal Service Code; an Astronomical Chart of the Planetary System.

Webster's Condensed Dictionary has been the model upon which many so-called "Webster" and other dictionaries of high-sounding titles have been built. These have been sold to the public in cheap bindings and printed poorly on cheap paper in order to appeal by price instead of merit. Webster's Condensed Dictionary is designed to meet all conditions squarely in the face by reason of its authoritative contents, greater scope, original and better illustrations, standard of manufacture, paper, press work and bindings. The Condensed is well up to date, containing latest words, meanings and derivations. Not only is it protected by copyright, but also by Registered Trade-mark. Additional to its department of definitions is an appendix containing a pronouncing vocabulary, abbreviations in writing and printing, arbitrary signs, etc., Examples of new words: Radium, Tonneau, Limousine, Chauffeur, Lingerie, Coherer, Acetylene, Graft, etc.

Printed on high quality of paper.

Size $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4} \times 1\frac{3}{4}$ inches.

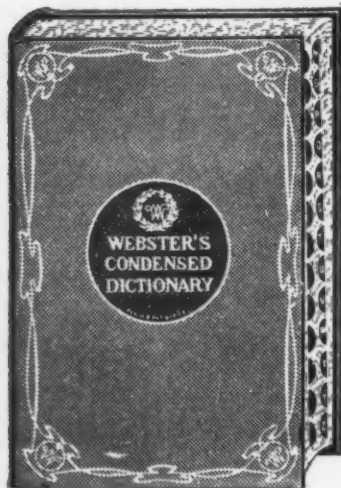

Bound in three styles, viz:

Extra silk finish cloth, with side and back stamping in gold, marbled edges, double thumb-index cut on edge. Price $1.25.

Half morocco, side and back stamping in gold, marbled edges, double thumb-index cut on edge. Price $1.50.

Library edition, bound in genuine flexible morocco, gold side and back stamping, rounded corners, extra marbled edges, with double thumb-index. Price $2.00.

Weight packed for shipment (each book) 36 ounces.

Webster's Practical Dictionary

1906 EDITION

Authorized and Copyrighted by

G. & C. MERRIAM CO.

The Practical is all that its name implies—a practical dictionary of the English language, embodying the 31,465 words in practical use. While this dictionary is an abridgment of the well known Webster's Condensed Dictionary, it carries more words than any other handy sized dictionary, excepting the genuine Webster series, not to speak of its better illustrations and its definitions of later words, such as antitoxin, lyddite, chauffeur, automobile, radium, mercerized, limousine, etc. The authorship is the same as that of the Unabridged and Condensed dictionaries. Like the larger Websters, its authority is genuine and endorsed as such by educators. The Practical is published in three styles, designed to meet the needs of the public at most reasonable prices.

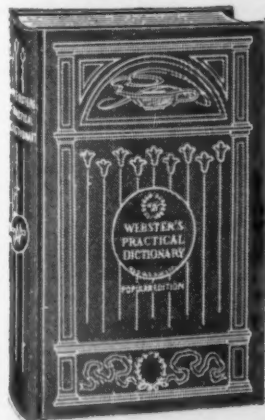

The Ideal edition contains 634 pages, including the dictionary proper with its 1200 illustrations and an appendix of 106 pages. The appendix consists of a pronouncing vocabulary, alphabetical list of abbreviations, arbitrary signs, the metric system, etc. Printed on extra book paper from new type set plates and substantially bound in durable extra cloth.

Size $7\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4} \times 1\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Weight ready for shipment, 26 ounces. Price, 80 cents.

The Concise edition contains 528 pages, but corresponds exactly to the Ideal except that the 106 pages of appendix are omitted. It is printed and bound in the same style and on the same high grade of paper.

Size, $7\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4} \times 1$ inch. Weight, packed for shipment, 20 ounces. Price, 65 cents

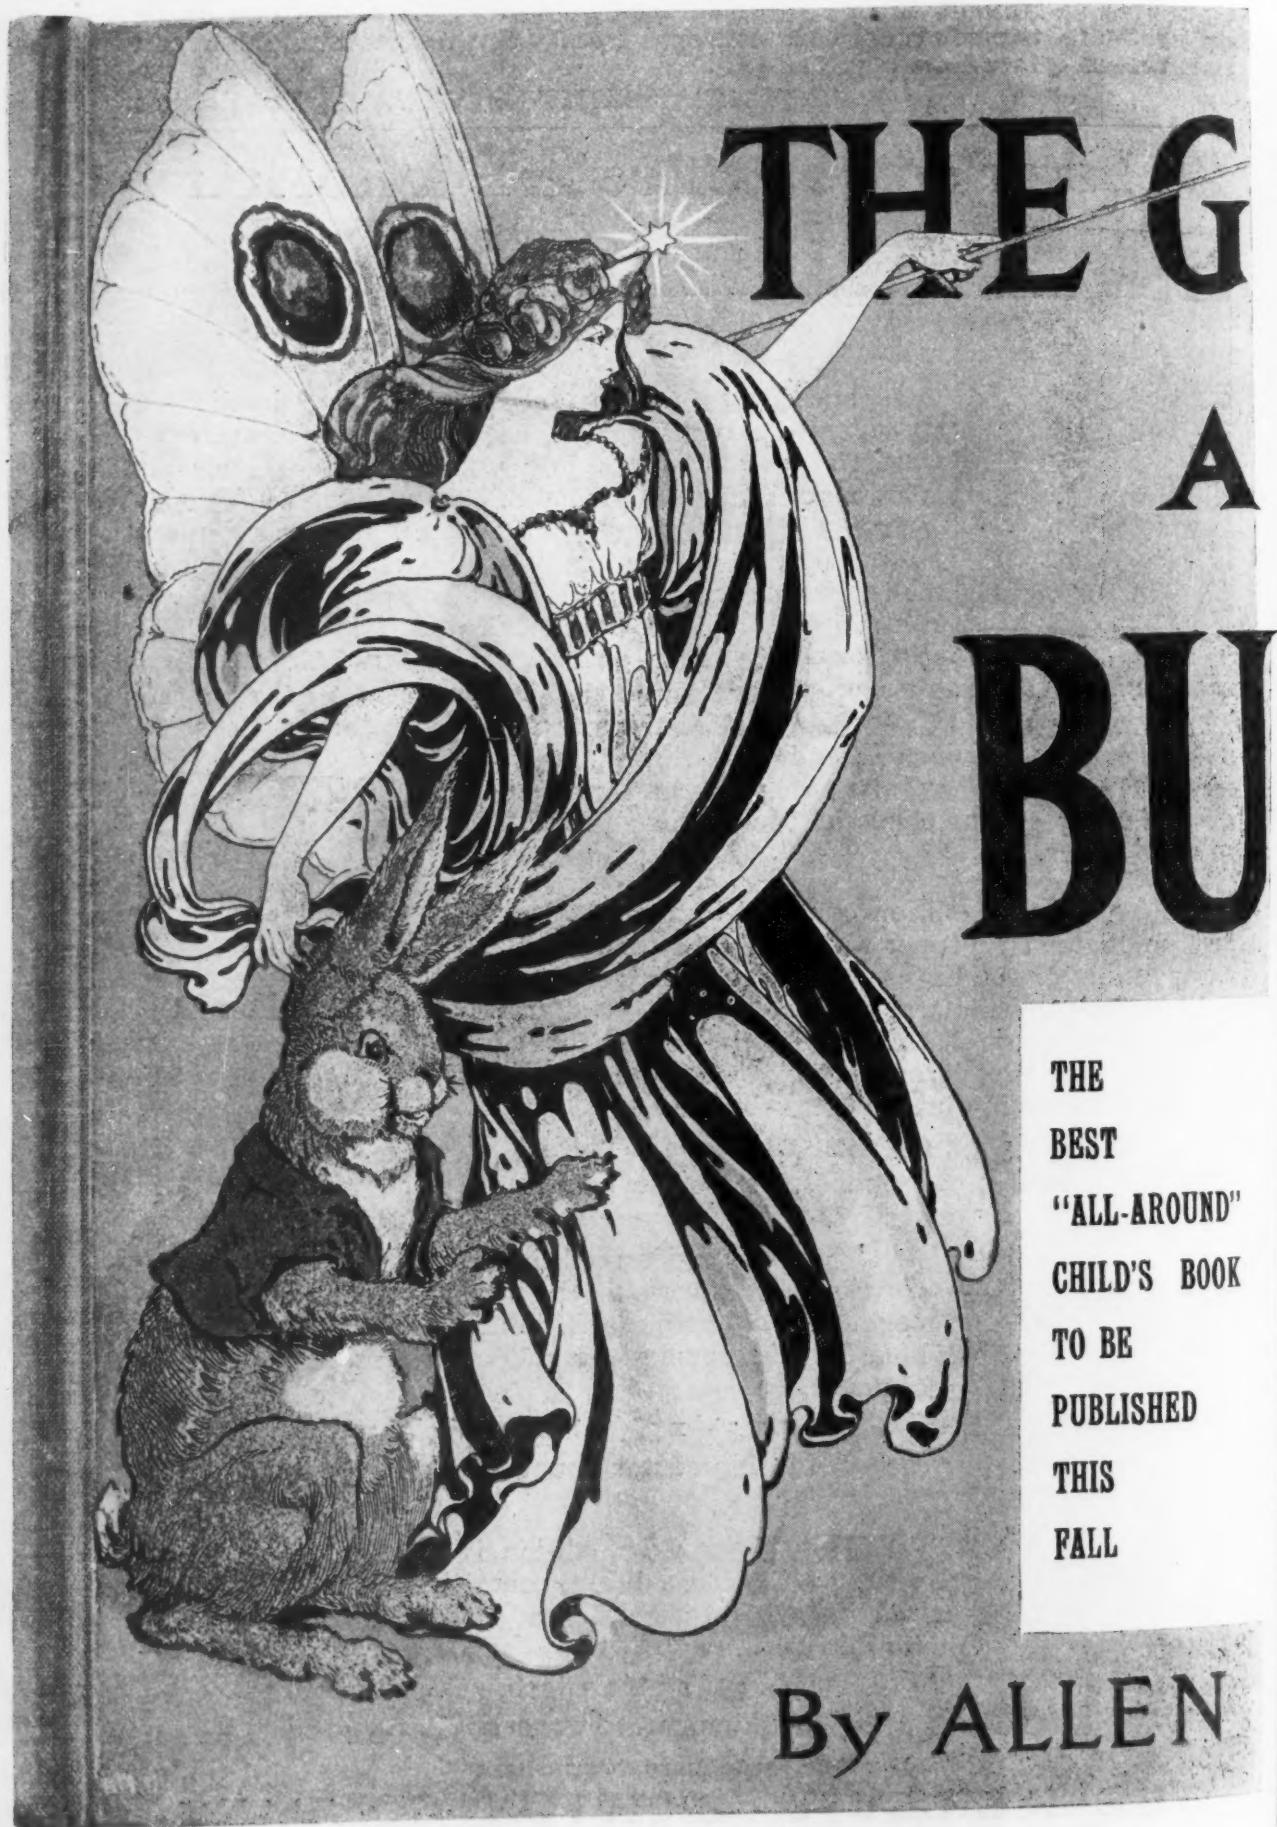

The Popular edition is identical in contents with the Concise edition, containing 528 pages. It is well printed on a good grade of paper and bound in durable cloth.

Size, $7\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4} \times 1$ inch. Weight, packed for shipment, 16 ounces. Price, 40 cents

GOOD FAIRY AND THE UNNIES

You should see the letters the author received from young readers during the serial publication of this story. Expert testimony—for who knows better than the children themselves what makes a REAL fairy story.

There will be 11 full-page pictures (and other smaller drawings) in COLOR, by FREDERICK RICHARDSON. It will be a fairy book for EVERY child—not for the few. A popular price, too—$1.50.

Ready in October. Keep this title well in view. It will pay you to order it liberally.

NOTES IN SEASON.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish early in the fall F. Hopkinson Smith's "The Tides of Barnegat;" also, a new Western story of adventure and conflicts between cowboys and railroad men, by Frank A. Spearman, author of "The Daughter of a Magnate," etc.

A. C. McCLURG & Co. have in preparation an attractive book for children to be entitled "The Good Fairy and the Bunnies," by Allen Ayrault Green. The author has received a large number of complimentary letters from his young readers while the story was appearing in serial form—a most sincere form of appreciation. The book will be illustrated, in colors, by Frederick Richardson.

P. BLAKISTON'S SON & Co. have just published a work on "Entomology, with special reference to its biological and economic aspects," by Dr. Justus Watson Folsom. This book has been written with the aim of giving a comprehensive yet concise account of insects, and in an effort to provide a text-book for students which treats the subject of entomology from the biological and practical standpoints. The numerous illustrations in the book are chiefly from the author's original drawings.

DANA ESTES & Co. have just ready a new novel by Filson Young, (Guy Thorne,) author of "The Happy Motorist," etc., entitled "The Sands of Pleasure." The scene of the story shifts from the Cornish coast, where the hero is engaged in building a magnificent lighthouse, completing what his father had begun, and where, until thirty, he lived in an air of self-concentration, to Paris, where, in the gay surroundings of Montmartre and Fontainebleau, he loses his illusions and finds his true self.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. bring out this week "The Frog Book," by Mary Dickerson; "How to Make a Fruit Garden," by S. W. Fletcher; "Cotton," by Charles W. Burkett and Clarence H. Poe; also, the ninth and tenth parts of "The Dog Book," which are devoted to hounds, house dogs, toy dogs, etc. Next week they will publish the long-heralded and much-postponed "Recollections and Letters of George Washington," the letters being addressed by Washington to Tobias Lear, his confidential friend and secretary, whose recollections of the home life at Mt. Vernon give an intimate picture of a great man. They will publish at the same time a brilliant novel of Continental life by E. Nesbit, (Mrs. Hubert Bland,) entitled "The Incomplete Amorist." This book, which takes its author out of the class of writers of children's stories and causes her to be ranked with our important women novelists, is the story of a man who is a universal lover, and who is finally bitten by a real passion himself.

THE REILLY & BRITTON COMPANY have published under arrangement with the G. & C. Merriam Co. five popular series of Webster's dictionaries, as follows: "Webster's Condensed Dictionary," which contains 46,297 defined words, 1500 text illustrations, color maps, charts, etc., and is bound in cloth, half morocco and in flexible morocco, retailing at from $1.25 to $2; "Webster's Practical Dictionary," an abridgment of the "Condensed," containing 31,465 words in daily use, also put up in three styles of binding; the Ideal edition, a handy volume, containing the dictionary proper, with 1200 illustrations and an appendix with a pronouncing vocabulary, list of abbreviations, arbitrary signs, etc., to retail at 80 cents; the Concise edition, which is identical with the Ideal edition, except that the appendix is omitted, a handy volume retailing for 65 cents; also, the Popular edition, which is identical with the Concise edition and gotten up to retail for 40 cents. These issues will meet the demand for inexpensive dictionaries, based on the Webster standard.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

¶ The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

The man, the scion of an old English house, came between Ethel Rawdon and her friend Ruth Bayard, both New York girls of wealth and culture. Ruth married a popular clergyman, but the man again came between; and Ethel bought a great English estate to save it from "the man between." The prejudices of old English families against relatives in trade influence the plot. Ethel's old grandmother alone has a good word for "the man between."

- Drawbridge, Rev. C. L. Is religion undermined? N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 9+238 p. D. cl., $1.25 net.
The author of "Old beliefs and new knowledge" says in his preface: "One frequently hears the opinion expressed that 'the very foundations of religion have been undermined by modern investigation.' The purpose of this book is to deal with the said 'foundations,' with the object of ascertaining whether the above-expressed opinion is justified." Author finds nothing in science to undermine religion, although science must modify some of the tenets of theology.
- Drybough, T. B. Polo. Rev. enl. ed.; with 150 il. from photographs. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 16+383 p. diags., O. cl., $4 net.
The first edition was published in 1898. Of three new chapters added to this edition the most important deals with polo in America. Polo in the West Indies is the subject of another chapter. The section on English Polo at London Headquarters gives the results of ten years' experience while the author was playing there almost daily during the season.

The chapter on the Harlingham rules, with analysis which was a unique feature of the first edition, has been carefully rewritten. All the other chapters have been revised, and, when necessary, added to, to meet the wants of club managers and polo players. About fifty new photographic illustrations have been added.

The writer is President of the Waukesha National Bank. A plea for conservative, well-informed legislation in the matter of railroads, so that capital be not discouraged and the weaker roads be not sacrificed to the stronger. He pronounces "monstrous" a rate commission with absolute power to fix rates, not subject to revision by the courts.

Frantz, Henri. Delacroix. N. Y., F: Warne & Co., [1906.] 23+48 p. il. O. (Newnes' art lib.) bds., $1.25.

Delacroix, the greatest French painter of the 19th century, was before all things a magnificent colorist. After a short sketch of his life and work is given a chronology of the principal work of Delacroix, with full-page reproductions of about 170 pictures.

Frenssen, Gustave. Gravelotte: chapter XIV. of "Jörn Uhl"; ed., with introd., notes and vocabulary, by Otto Heller. Bost., Ginn, [1906.] c. 20+67 p. por. S. (International modern language ser.) cl., 25 c.

Editor professor of the German language and literature in Washington University, and director of German instruction in the Chautauqua institution. "Jörn Uhl," the novel from which this chapter is taken, was published in Germany in 1901 and in an English translation in 1905 by Dana Estes Co. The sketch embraced in the little book gives a vivid description of the battle of Gravelotte, of the Franco-Prussian war. Intended especially for third-year reading in high schools and second or third-year reading in colleges.

Author, instructor in philosophy at Harvard University. Six lectures delivered at the General Theological Seminary in New York during January and February of this year. Their titles are: New and old science of religion; Levels of value; Primitive beliefs; Ancestral systems; Mystical ideas; Levels of religion. The lecturer proves that Jews and mystics, Buddhists and Vedantists are one with Christians and agnostics in their desire to find points of contact, rather than points of difference, in studying their divers systems of belief.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 14, 1906.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

BACKING THE BOOKSELLER.—I.

THE course of action pursued by the Macmillan Company in this country and in Canada, in their dealings with libraries and certain other possible customers for miscellaneous books not engaged in the retail trade,—with certain exceptions, such, for example, as those interested in school books, which unfortunately is a special branch of the publishing business—to which reference was made some weeks since, if consistently followed by the whole publishing trade, would do much towards the rehabilitation of the bookseller. It is as true to-day as it was in the days of the Apostles, that "if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand;" in other words, a publisher must make and publish books, and the bookseller must promote a demand for them and distribute them among the public. The publisher cannot—unless the publishing is restricted to a few special books—combine the functions of a distributor with those of a publisher without injury to either one or the other of these functions; and even in the exceptional cases we have in mind, the publisher of a few special books would fare better if his books were handled through an alert and enterprising retail trade than he does by attempting their distribution himself.

In almost every other country the booktrade is generally divided into four divisions after the manuscript has left the author, namely, the printer, the bookbinder, the publisher and the retailer. Even in the cases where the foreign publisher is also a manufacturer, a perfectly natural combination, no other agent is allowed to interpose between the publisher and the bookseller, the supply of books in every case being direct from the publisher to the bookseller and from the bookseller to the public. It must be clear to even the densest observer that this division is an eminently rational and economical one. The German publisher, for example, in planning a book is able to estimate approximately what the possible demand for it may be, and he need not, therefore, dissipate his time, strength and capital in marketing it. For this service the publisher is able to rely upon well-organized and efficient channels of distribution—the more than 10,000 booksellers established in about 2000 cities and towns in Germany, Austria and Switzerland, and, if desired, he may put himself into communication with nearly 1200 more booksellers who handle German books in upwards of 300 cities and towns in the other countries of Europe, in America, Africa, Asia and Australia. It is sufficient for the publisher that he notifies the bookseller of his new publications through their trade journal, with its paraphernalia of order slips, etc., and the bookseller, who is expected, either personally or by proxy, to study his trade journal carefully, may day by day keep himself fully informed of the movements of the publishing trade; indeed, as ignorance of the law is no excuse, the publisher entrusts even his most important announcements to his trade journal, well aware that it will command attention. In exceptional cases only does the publisher address also the public on behalf of his books through the medium of the newspaper or magazine, or by means of circulars; but it is hardly necessary to add that no publisher would think of dealing directly with the book-buying public, whether public institutions or private buyers, and that to solicit such patronage would be anathema. There are some exceptions, but these would hardly prove the rule.

The conditions in this country, as our readers are well aware, are vastly different, and from some of them the retail booktrade has weakened and suffered for years. Realizing how difficult it would be to bring about a change, and how long a time would be consumed in the process, many able booksellers during the past two decades have given up the struggle and have turned their hands to other and more profitable callings.

The organization of the booktrade as we know it to-day is a heritage of its beginnings. When printing was first introduced into the American colonies the printer, naturally, was also the bookseller. Foreign books were occasionally brought into this country and sold by the importer of miscellaneous goods, including "Dutch oil cloths," "hair seating," cutlery and articles of "bigotry and virtue." It was not until early in the nineteenth century that publishing and bookselling were differentiated, and even then a large number of publishers continued to manufacture, and the bookseller divided his attention between the selling of books and the making of inks and blank books and the selling of the primitive articles now included under the comprehensive designation of "stationery."

The printer-publisher, while welcoming the division of labor, nevertheless could not subdue his hankering after orders from public and private institutions, colleges, schools, libraries and others, and so he added a so-called jobbing adjunct to his publishing business. After years of experimenting with such jobbing departments, the publishing houses that maintained them found them unprofitable and eliminated them altogether, or, in some cases, readjusted them so as to become retail stores proper, including mail order and library supply departments. The skimming of the cream of the booksellers' constituency through these adjuncts of the publisher's business continued until the advent of the cheap libraries in the early eighties, when the department store also rose to trouble the bookseller. At that time many of the abler booksellers turned their backs on the profession, and a number of the weaker ones went to the wall, leaving the trade at almost low ebb. Failing to perceive that one of the principal causes of the decay of the retail trade was the competition of the publisher with the retailer for what should be to the bookseller his principal support, the publisher still more dislocated the methods of distribution by entering the bookseller's local domain, and, by large and reiterated advertising, undermined even this last mainstay of the bookseller by soliciting orders from the public and supplying their books direct through their mail-order departments. It is indeed a wonder that so many booksellers had the courage to endure, even though to exist they were obliged to give the greater part of their time to the distribution of other lines in which a better living was made possible.

As the years went by, and the retail book-trade became still more decimated, discouraged and disorganized, the publisher, of necessity, was obliged more and more to undertake the direct marketing of his books to the public himself. The school-book trade, once a very profitable source of income to the bookseller, was the first to isolate itself, and it is now carried on at a tremendous expense to the publisher. Next, the publishers of law and medical books undertook to reach their public by the cumbersome and wasteful colportage system, by which method, also, many other special and high-priced books were marketed.

To market the miscellaneous books, especially the more popular ones, such as fiction, the publisher has been compelled to strain every nerve, and to expend sums for advertising of all kinds out of all proportion, it would seem, to the results attained. So great has been the waste in this direction that many publishers frankly admit that there is small profit in publishing miscellaneous books, and that the frequent failures in publishing fiction too closely balance the profit earned by the big sellers.

A GERMAN VIEW OF COPYRIGHT IN RELATION TO UNDERSELLING.

SIMULTANEOUSLY with the decisions rendered in the suits of the Bobbs-Merrill Company and Charles Scribner's Sons against the Macy's, the German Imperial Court, the final judicial authority, rendered similar decisions in the suit brought by the publishing firm Union, of Leipzig, against Hermann Schmoller, of Frankfurt-a.-M., for alleged violation of the copyright law by cutting the prices of its books, and in the suit brought by Albert Koenig, of Guben, against the firm of Jandorf, a department store in Berlin, to decide the question whether an author, under the provisions of the German copyright law, can compel a third party to maintain the price of his book.

When the suit of the Union against Schmoller was brought before the County Court of Frankfurt-a.-M., the court decided against the defendant on the ground that "a violation of copyright is possible even if the offense does not consist in an actual reprinting of the book. The author, and the publisher also, may prohibit the underselling of their book, and they may also determine the price at which their book must be sold in different localities. After the plaintiff had warned the defendant against selling his book below the price fixed, defendant by disregarding such warning rendered himself liable, because the sale of a book is equivalent to publishing. The defendant in this instance was fined 100 marks. The Imperial Court, on the contrary, was of the opinion that the copyright law did not apply to this case and found for the defendant, with costs.

In the suit brought by Albert Koenig against Jandorf the plaintiff declared that he had made contracts with the retail book-trade to maintain the price of his "Kursbuch" at 50 pf., but that the defendant had probably obtained its books either surreptitiously or through a dealer who violated his contract. Plaintiff, to discover the source of defendant's supply, then marked each of his books with a number, which number being affixed to a corner of the fly-leaf was clipped off by the defendant. Plaintiff therefore brought suit to protect himself. The County Court of Berlin dismissed the suit, and was sustained in its decision by the Supreme Court of Judicature on the following grounds: Copyright is intended to protect the author against unauthorized use of his work, that is, by reprinting it either in part or entire, and against a breach of contract between the originator of a work and the first purchaser. Such protection, however, could not be extended to an article after it has once been sold. It was also denied that the underselling of an article was an offense against morals, [Gute Sitten, as provided for in the Gesetzbuch,] because such practice is usual among merchants. If the defendant had obtained its books rightfully it was at liberty to dispose of them in whatever manner it chose, plaintiff having been unable to prove in what manner defendant had obtained its books. Koenig appealed to the Imperial Court, which, however, upheld the Supreme Court of Judicature, holding that there was no ground either in the organic law or the laws of the German empire upon which to enjoin the defendant against selling its books in any other manner than that prescribed by the plaintiff. A so-called absolute right in a publication that extended to every copy made of it the court considered neither conceivable nor feasible. An appeal to the patent law, the court held, also could not apply, because the inventor is only protected against an unauthorized reproduction of his invention, and cannot control the manufactured article after he has sold it.

CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

CONGRESS in its bill of appropriation for the service of the Post-Office Department for the ensuing fiscal year, introduced the following provision:

"That there shall be appointed a joint commission of Congress, consisting of three Senators, to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and three members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, whose duty it shall be to investigate, consider and report, by bill or otherwise, to Congress its findings and recommendations regarding the second class of mail matter. The said joint commission shall have power to employ clerks and stenographers, administer oaths, send for persons and papers, and do all things necessary for the carrying out of its objects. For the payment of such actual and necessary expenses as may be incurred by the said joint commission in travelling and for the rental of quarters, printing, and other miscellaneous expenses of the joint commission the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be paid out on the order of the chairman of the joint commission."

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF NEWS-DEALERS.

THE twenty-seventh annual convention of the National Association of Newsdealers, Booksellers and Stationers of America will be held on August 21 and 22 in Chicago, Ill. Already a large number of dealers has promised to attend, and the convention is expected to be one of the most important ever held by the Association.

Those interested, who may wish to identify themselves with the Association, are requested to write to the national secretary, A. Hillman-Russin, 19 Park Place, New York City.

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

PERFORATED MUSIC SHEETS NOT INFRINGEMENT OF COPYRIGHT.

THE United States Circuit Court of Appeals has unanimously affirmed the decision of the United States Circuit Court, rendered by Judge Hazel, who declared that perforated music sheets or records used in connection with mechanism are not an infringement of copyrighted musical compositions. The decision of Judge Lacombe, Judges Townsend and Coxe concurring, as summed up in the New York Law Journal for July 6 is as follows:

"The questions raised in these cases are of vast importance and involve far-reaching results. They have been exhaustively discussed in the clear and forcible briefs and arguments of counsel. We are of the opinion that the rights sought to be protected by these suits belong to the same class as those covered by the specific provisions of the copyright statutes, and that the reasons which led to the passage of said statutes apply with great force to the protection of rights of copyright against such an appropriation of the fruits of an author's conception as results from the acts of defendant.

"But in view of the fact that the law of copyright is a creature of statute, and is not declaratory of the common law, and that it confers distinct and limited rights, which did not exist at the common law, we are constrained to hold that it must be strictly construed, and that we are not at liberty to extend its provisions, either by resort to equitable considerations or to a strained interpretation of the terms of the statute.

"We are, therefore, of the opinion that a perforated paper roll, such as is manufactured by defendant, is not a copy of complainant's staff notation for the following reasons:

"It is not a copy in fact; it is not designed to be read or actually used in reading music as the original staff notation is, and the claim that it may be read, which is practically disproved by the great preponderance of evidence, even if true, would establish merely a theory or possibility of use, as distinguished from an actual use. The argument that because the roll is a notation or record of the music it is, therefore, a copy, would apply to the disc of the phonograph or the barrel of the organ, which, it must be admitted, are not copies of the sheet music. The perforations in the rolls are not a varied form of symbols substituted for the symbols used by the author. They are mere adjuncts of a valve mechanism in a machine. In fact, the machine or music playing device is the thing which appropriates the author's property and publishes it by producing the musical sounds, thus conveying the author's composition to the public.

"The decree is affirmed, with costs."

OBITUARY NOTES.

JULES ADOLPHE BRÉTON, the celebrated French painter, died in Paris, July 5. He was born in Courrières, (Pas-de-Calais,) in May, 1827, and was a pupil of Drolling and Devigne. His best-known pictures are "The Return of the Harvesters," "The Gleaners" and "The Communicants." Bréton was also known as a poet, and in 1890 he published his autobiography under the title of "Vie d'un Artiste—art et nature."

DR. CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS LANGDELL, Dane professor of law emeritus at Harvard University, died in Cambridge, Mass., July 6. Dr. Langdell was born in Hillsborough County, N. H., May 22, 1826. He studied at Harvard in 1848 and 1849, and then, after teaching a time, took a course at the Harvard Law School, from which he was graduated in 1853. He practiced his profession in Cambridge until 1870, when he was elected Dane professor of law and dean of the law faculty at Harvard. His books include "Selection of Cases on the Law of Contracts," "Cases on Sales," "Summary of Law of Contracts and Equity Pleading," and "Cases in Equity Pleading."

WILLIAM BALLANTYNE, one of the oldest booksellers in Washington, D. C., died on July 7, at his summer home in Siasconset, Mass. Mr. Ballantyne was born in Scotland seventy-nine years ago and came to New York when a young man, settling in the book business on his own account. Acting upon the advice of Robert Carter he went to Washington, in 1852, and became a member of the firm of Gray & Ballantyne. Mr. Gray retired a few years later, and Mr. Ballantyne continued the business under his own name until April, 1878, when his eldest son, Robert Carter Ballantyne, was admitted as a partner and the firm became William Ballantyne & Son. When the younger son, William Ballantyne, Jr., became a partner, the firm name was changed to William Ballantyne & Sons. The firm, which does a large trade in books and stationery, has been for many years located at 428 Seventh Street. During the last five or six years Mr. Ballantyne has not been very active in business on account of failing health, but when in the city was almost always at his desk for a couple of hours daily. He is survived by two sons, his associates in business, and by a daughter.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

CHARLES BATTELL LOOMIS is putting the finishing touches to "Cheer Up," his new book, for James Pott & Co., preparatory to sailing for London to visit Jerome J. Jerome.

PROFESSOR EDWARD A. STEINER, of Grinnell College, Iowa, has sailed for Europe under commission from Fleming H. Revell Company to visit centres of emigration in the interest of his book, "On the Trail of the Immigrant," to be published this fall.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BALTIMORE, MD.—The John Murphy Company will open a bookstore in the Park Avenue Building.

MANILA, P. I.—E. M. Webster has been appointed receiver for the Van Buskirk Crook Company.

OGDEN, UTAH.—The Ross Book and Stationery Co. has changed the name of the concern to the Utah Stationery Company.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—The Franklin Bookshop, (Samuel N. Rhoads,) has outgrown its quarters at 1105 Walnut Street and removed to 210 West Washington Square, where there is larger space for the display of books, prints and manuscripts.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—The St. Paul Book and Stationery Company have taken a ten years' lease on a new three-story building in course of erection on East Sixth Street, between Minnesota and Cedar Streets. The building will be 50 x 100 feet and, with the basement, will give them 20,000 square feet of floor space. They expect the ground floor to be ready some time in October, and during the holidays will probably run two stores, as the lease on their present quarters at Fifth Avenue and St. Peter Streets will not expire until next May. The St. Paul Book and Stationery Company is the direct descendant of the firm of D. D. Merrill Co., which was established in 1859 by Daniel D. Merrill, who was actively connected with the management of the concern until his death in May, 1896. In 1879 D. D. Merrill & Co. and White, Stone & Co. combined forces as the D. D. Merrill Company, which in the fall of 1893, owing to the personal failure of Daniel D. Merrill, was obliged to liquidate. In February, 1894, the concern was reorganized as the St. Paul Book and Stationery Company, with Daniel D. Merrill, Clarence H. Slocum and Joseph H. Beck as active officers. The firm, which has always been a powerful factor in the Western booktrade, has made great strides during the past decade, and has several times been obliged to seek larger quarters; so that, if it continues to grow in the same proportion, in another ten years it may be obliged to look for a six-story building. The present officers are Mrs. A. M. Slocum, president; Joseph H. Beck, vice-president; Clarence H. Slocum, secretary and manager, and Clarence W. Sanders, treasurer.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—Goldsmith Bros. have opened a new store at 2809 California Street, and carry a full line of books, stationery, magazines, etc. Will be glad to receive catalogues and samples in their line. They report that they have collected insurance in full, though their loss above insurance is estimated at about $5000.

SCRANTON, PA.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the International Text-book Co. the following directors were elected for the coming year: T. J. Foster, R. J. Foster, E. H. Lawall, W. L. Connell, J. K. Griffith, T. E. Jones, F. T. Patterson, C. D. Jones, C. D. Simpson. The present officers were re-elected.

SEATTLE, WASH.—The Lowman & Hanford Stationery and Printing Company opened their new store at 616 to 620 First Avenue, on the 7th inst., on which occasion they arranged an exhibition of fine bindings by the noted binders of the world.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

WILLIAM H. SMITH, JR., 515 West 173d Street, New York City, has in preparation a "Bibliography of Lincoln Literature," to be published early in the fall. Mr. Smith has collected 1200 items, each of which will be supplied with the price at which it has sold at auction, making the work of particular value to the bookseller, librarian and collector. The edition will be limited to 250 small paper copies and fifteen copies on large paper.

The Bulletin of Bibliography for July, published by the Boston Book Company, contains a reprint, from the Handbook for the Narragansett Pier A. L. A. meeting, of Clarence S. Brigham's "Bibliography of the Narragansett Country;" the first part of a bibliography of "Prose Fiction," by Nathaniel L. Goodrich, of the New York State Library, giving a list of books and essays in English relating to the theory of prose fiction in general, and to the history of English and American fiction from the publication of "Euphues" of Lyly, in 1579, to the present year; pt. 23 of the second series of George Watson Cole's bibliography, "Bermuda in Periodical Literature, with occasional references to other works;" the department of "Births and Deaths," that is, a record of new titles, changed titles and deaths in the periodical world; also, the "Index to Reference Lists Published by Libraries," compiled by Elizabeth Cranston, of the Providence (R. I.) Public Library, which will hereafter be published monthly in the A. L. A. Booklist, and cumulated quarterly in the Bulletin of Bibliography.

CATALOGUES OF NEW AND SECOND-HAND BOOKS.—Théophile Belin, 48 Rue Cambon, Paris, Rare books, manuscripts and miniature books of hours, fine bindings, etc. (1164 titles. 1 fr.)—Bertram Dobell, 77 Charing Cross Rd., London, Rare books, including books from the collections of Edwin Truman, W. W. Robinson, J. A. Slater and others. (No. 141, 683 titles.)—Otto Harrassowitz, 14 Queerstr., Leipzig, Die Levante, Byzanz, Neugriechenland, Palestina. (No. 292, 1681 titles.)—Karl W. Hiersemann, 3 Königsstr., Leipzig, Biblioteca Mejicana. (No. 325, 1098 titles.)—Maggs Bros., 109 Strand, London. Autograph letters, signed documents and manuscripts. (No. 220, 1088 titles.)—Museum Book Store, 43 Museum St., London, Books, etc., relating to North and South America, Canada and the West India Islands. (No. 11, 475 lots.)—Bernard Quaritch, 15 Piccadilly, London, Works on America, English history, philology, occult sciences, Bibles, etc. (No. 250, 1197 titles.)—Ludwig Rosen-thal, 16 Hildegardstr., Munich, Bavaria, Americana. (No. 115, 1674 titles.)—Shepard Book Company, Salt Lake City, Utah, Rare poetical and dramatic works. (No. 23, 36 p. 12°.)—George D. Smith, 50 New St., New York, Rare and curious books, including Americana and first editions. (No. 116, 160 titles.)—H. H. Timby, Conneaut, O., Miscellaneous. (No. 39, 32 p. 12°.)—Karl Theodor Volcker, 3 Römerberg, Frankfurt-a.-M., Kriegsgeschichte u. Heerwesen. (No. 263, 1635 titles.)

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

ARCHIBALD CONSTABLE & Co., London, will publish at once Marie Corelli's new novel, "The Treasure of Heaven, a Romance of Riches."

B. W. HUEBSCH is showing his line of diaries, "Huebsch's Year Book," for 1907 and perpetual, to stationers, and his publications to booksellers, in the middle West. The trade west of the Mississippi is being visited in the interest of the same goods by C. R. Faris.

H. M. CALDWELL COMPANY have in preparation "The Wishbone Boat," by Miss Alice C. D. Riley, which describes the journey, in a wishbone boat, of a princess and her fool to strange lands in search of the beauty which both lacked. The story will be illustrated by L. J. Bridgman.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY have in preparation for the fall "The Adventures of Billy Topsail," a sea book for boys, by Norman Duncan; also, "The Undertow," a new book by Robert E. Knowles, whose "St. Cuthbert's" has survived two seasons with increasing strength and popularity.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. have in press "A Girl of Resource," by Eyre Hussey, author of "Miss Badsworth, M. F. H.;" "Heroes of European History," by the widow of Dr. Mandell Creighton, Bishop of London; also, "The Correspondence of Two Brothers," the brothers being Edward Adolphus, eleventh Duke of Somerset, and Lord Webb Seymour.

It is proposed by Dr. I. Colijn, of Upsala, Dr. K. Haebler, of Dresden, and others, to organize a society for the study of incuna-bula, that is, to supplement the work of Hain, Proctor and others, and of the projectors of the general catalogue of all incunabula, by reproducing in facsimile the largest possible number of types used by the early printers. The society is to be named Gesellschaft für Typenkunde des xv. Jahrhunderts, and the yearly dues are not to exceed twenty-five marks, which will entitle the members each year to receive a portfolio of about 100 plates. Dr. Isak Colijn, of Upsala, is temporary secretary, and Rudolf Haupt, bookseller at Halle-a-S., is temporary treasurer.

McLOUGHLIN BROTHERS have in preparation a new series, The Athletic Library, which will contain stories of field sports by writers who are recognized as authorities on their subjects, as well as lovers of the sports that delight American boys and girls. The initial volume will be "Midget Blake, Pitcher," by Leslie W. Quirk, author of "Baby Elton, Quarterback." Another new series in preparation is the American Boys' and Girls' Library, which will contain stories illustrating the life and times of American boys and girls who lived in the long ago, as well as the boys and girls of our own times. The initial volume in this series will be "Judy, Heroine," a Rhode Island story of the time of Roger Williams, by Elizabeth Preston.

ALEXANDER MORING, London, has just published "The Story of the Laxdalers," translated from the Icelandic by the late Robert Proctor. This translation of one of the finest of the sagas was printed under Proctor's directions at the Chiswick Press in the year of his death. Though without ornament of any kind, the book is an almost perfect piece of printing, and was exhibited for its typographical merit both at the St. Louis Exhibition and lately at the "Arts and Crafts." On its appearance, in 1903, it was not sent out for review nor advertised in any way, and Proctor even postponed circulating a little prospectus which had been set up until he should have returned from the holiday on which he met his death. The volume is thus now practically offered to booklovers for the first time.

LOTHROP, LEE & SHEPARD COMPANY have among their fall announcements a novel entitled "Hearts and the Cross," by Harold M. Kramer, one of the group of Indiana journalists who have contributed so much good material to recent literature. The story is of a man whose vigorous personality enables him to do justice to himself, and to secure justice for himself, under most trying conditions. The story is illustrated by Harold Matthews Brett. They will add to their Phillips-Exeter Series "With Mask and Mitt," by A. T. Dudley. The new volume continues the subject of baseball, although it is very much more than merely a baseball story. The volume will be illustrated by Charles Copeland. Two new Stratemeyer books are also promised—"Dave Porter in the South Seas," a new volume in the Dave Porter Series, and "Trail and Trading Post," a new volume in the Colonial Series. A. B. Shute has made the illustrations for both books.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplaced advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

Clark Russell's

NEW BOOK

THE YARN OF OLD HARBOUR TOWN

A Sea Romance, by W. CLARK RUSSELL, author of "The Romance of a Midshipman," etc. $1.50

A tale that breathes the freshness and freedom of the sea. There is life and spirit and action and the indescribable charm of life on or near the ocean. The plot is most ingenious and well worked out, the interest throughout never lags, and the characters are unusually natural and life-like,—that of Lucy Acton, the heroine, being particularly good. A clever tale.

THE GIRL OUT THERE

By KARL EDWIN HARRIMAN

Author of "The Girl and the Deal." Six full-page illustrations. $1.25

The Chicago Record-Herald says:

"It does one good to read it. Such brave, honest people! Such a sane and simple plot, with such a happy ending! It rings with true cadences of humor and pathos, and a sound yet tender spirit runs through it all."

A Small Outlay With Large Possibilities

Promote Your School Book Business

Booksellers can add to the volume of their business materially by developing carefully the sale of school books in their territory. While the margin of profit appears to be small it must be kept in mind that many schools, especially private schools, colleges and universities, order in quantities; the sale-season, though short, is "snappy" and there is a minimum of danger only in accumulating "dead" stock. When you make a customer for school books, be he the school principal or pupil, you have a customer for other supplies as well and very often you form business friendships with the "book-lovers" of the future.

To aid the bookseller in this branch of his business, we publish yearly an up-to-date "Educational List" containing the titles of current school books and their prices, together with a classified index of subjects. This catalogue we supply at a very low rate in quantities with the dealer's own imprint on front page—cheap enough to warrant any bookseller distributing it among all the educational institutions in his territory.

TERMS FOR IMPRINT EDITIONS

100 Copies $5.00 500 Copies $22.50 1000 Copies $40.00

 Can we interest you? If not familiar with the "Educational List" write for a sample copy.

THE WOMAN IN THE ALCOVE is the best detective story Anna Katharine Green has ever written, and among American makers of this popular kind of fiction Anna Katharine Green has for a long time been easily first.

THE WOMAN IN THE ALCOVE is, indeed, one of the most fascinating books of the sort, superior in content, it seems to us, to either The Filigree Ball or The Millionaire Baby, and as absorbing as those or any of their predecessors.—New York Times Saturday Review of Books.

Magnificently illustrated by Arthur I. Keller. 12mo, cloth, $1.50. The Bobbs-Merrill Company, Publishers.
